

United Way • Town of Westport • Westport Public Schools • The PTA Council • Positive Directions

The nation's economy is affecting many of us in a variety of ways. From cutbacks to layoffs and unemployment, we all know of families that could use some extra support. At this uncertain time, it is difficult to know where to turn in order to get advice, or how to access services which you may eligible to receive.

There is help available. Westport's Department of Human Services (341-1050,) in conjunction with Positive Youth Development (PYD), has put together a list of resources to assist Westport families. The listings below can help you with your immediate needs associated with loss or decrease of income. Most of these resources are available at no charge.

Where do I start?

Town of Westport, Department of Human Services

203-341-1050 www.westportct.gov

The Human Services staff is here to help and this is the best place to start should you need information on resources available to you and your family. The department provides confidential information and referrals, short-term counseling, financial assistance, health insurance resources, family support, emergency food, fuel/heating assistance, rent relief, housing, job assistance, back to school & special clothing assistance, summer school & campership assistance. The Department assists residents in applying for state & federal program applications.

Community Resources for Children and Families: A comprehensive listing of local services published by Westport's Human Services Department can be accessed 24 hours a day at <http://www.westportct.gov/agencies/healthandwelfare/> then click on publications.

Westport Public Schools

Barbara Fischetti, Coordinator of Pupil Services Pre-K-Grade 8, 341-1237

Elaine Schwartz, Director of Guidance Staples High School, 341-1434

The schools have a broad array of services to help children and families realize their potential. Each elementary building has a school psychologist and the middle and high schools also have counselors. School social workers are also available for any family. Oftentimes, the school staff know your children very well and may recognize some signs of family distress. You can assist your child and the schools by sharing information which you feel might be important for your child's teachers and counselors to know. All information that you share is confidential and may help the school better address your children's individual needs.

WWHD provides a wide range of services to help keep the communities of Westport and Weston healthy including free blood pressure screenings, senior center clinics, walk-in wellness clinics, community cholesterol screenings and a confidential HIV/AIDS Testing and Counseling Clinic. Many services are offered free or at a reduced charge.

Housing issues and Energy Assistance:

Westport's Department of Human Services can assist you in accessing programs which can help with housing issues and energy assistance.

United Way Westport Warm-Up Fund, Operation Fuel and other assistance

Energy assistance is available thanks to the gifts of residents and organizations such as the United Way and the Westport Young Woman's League. Westport residents having trouble heating their homes are urged to call the Department of Human Services at 341-1050.

Interfaith Housing Association (IHA)

226-3426

www.ihawestport.com

The Interfaith Housing Association (IHA) has a caring professional staff and the help of volunteers. IHA provides shelter, transitional housing, permanent housing, community kitchen, employment and mentoring services for men, single women and families – for people who have lost their homes for a variety of reasons. The organization also helps people in crisis in order to prevent them from becoming homeless.

Emergency Food Resources

Food is available to Westport families on an emergency basis. Please contact your local Church or Synagogue to ask if they have a food pantry or call Westport's Department of Human Services who can help you to access our local food banks through the Westport Women's Club or Interfaith Housing.

Interfaith Housing Association has a food pantry. Anyone can bring or receive food through IHA, at the Gillespie Center, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Someone is always there. Those in need of emergency food resources only need to provide a photo id in order to receive groceries. A person may only receive groceries twice a month. IHA is located at 45 Jessup Road, directly behind Restoration Hardware. The entrance does not face Jessup Road. It faces the parking lot adjacent to the building. 226-3426

Westport Woman's Club and the Westport Department of Human Services

The Westport Woman's Club is the collection site for groceries for the Westport Department of Human Services. For someone to receive food from WWC they need to call the Department of Human Services at 341-1050. DHS will anonymously request food for the amount of members in the household and their ages. Food can then be picked up at Town Hall.

Counseling Assistance:

It is important that you take care of your mental health and that of your family. Although it can be difficult to take the first step in asking for support, it is a wonderful way to assess your own personal strengths and get the help you need. Seeking help through counseling does not imply weakness. Individuals who seek counseling are usually seeking more effective and rewarding lives by addressing personal problems, career questions, skill development issues, or value questions. You can access counseling services in a variety of ways. If you have children, it is best to start with your child's school. You can also call the Department of Human Services, contact your church or synagogue and/or seek counseling through an agency.
